A MARYLAND LYNCHING

Murderer Henson Dragged from Jail by a Masked Mob.

FEARED EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY.

Governor Brown However, Declares That the Condemned Man Would Have Been Legally Hanged, as Experts Had Declared Him Mentally Responsible for His Act.

ELLICOTT CITY, Md., May 29.—Jacob Henson, the young colored man who was recently tried and convicted in the Howard county court and sentenced to be hanged on June 7, was taken from the Ellicott City jail early in the morning and hanged to the limb of a dogwood tree.

The mob assembled near the jail by twos and threes. No alarm was given, and the first information Chief of Police Vansant had of their presence was when the leaders of the throng demanded admittance to the jail. He attempted to parley with them, but it was of no use.

"We have come for Henson, and we mean to have him," was the only answer given to him.

Vansant refused to open the jail doors, but a heavy stick of timber proved as efficacious as a key, and the mob was soon inside the little prison. Henson cowered in his cell, and when he caught sight of the veiled figures as they were revealed by the dim light of a single lantern he shrieked for mercy, swearing that he had never killed Shea.

It was useless. Half a dozen determined men broke open the cell door and placed a rope around the negro's neck. He was more dead than alive when dragged from the cell. He fell upon his knees and alternately prayed and cursed; but determined hands were at the other end of the rope, and he was dragged face downward down the jail steps.

Once in the open air he seemed to revive, and struggled to his feet, determined to fight for life. For a moment or two there was a desperate struggle, but Henson was quickly overcome, and was half dragged, half carried from the center of the town. On past the place where the murder was committed the mob hurried him to his fate.

Merrick's lane seemed to offer a convenient place for the last act of the tragedy, and Henson was hustled along until Patapsco institute and its sleepy inmates were left behind. Then the end of the rope was thrown over the branch of a tree. There was a final shriek, ending in a ghastly rattle, as the murderer was pulled clear off the ground and the tragedy was over. No shots were fired, and the mob dispersed as quietly as it had assembled.

The lynching was the work of about twenty determined men, who thus avenged the murder of Daniel F. Shea, which was one of the most brutal crimes ever committed in Howard county. The lynchers feared that the governor of Maryland might be induced to interfere, and commute the dead man's sentence to life imprisonment.

The grounds for this apprehension came from the repeated visits to the jail of specialists in mental diseases to inquire into Henson's sanity, and the reported intention of Governor Brown himself to go out there for the same purpose.

The belief had been growing that Henson's sentence might be commuted and he be spirited away to the Baltimore penitentiary. The effect of this belief was found in a placard, signed "Whitecaps," which was left pinned to the breast of the lynched negro, on which was written:

"We respect our court and judges. Governor Brown forced the law abiding citizens to carry out the verdict of the jury."

Governor Brown Deplores the Lynching.

BALTIMORE, May 29.—In speaking of the lynching of Jacob Henson at Ellicott City Governor Brown said: "I was greatly shocked at the brutal outrage committed by those people. The man would have been hanged by due process of law in a short time, the report of the committee of physicians who examined him as to his insanity being to the effect that he was sane and responsible for his acts. This lynching emphasizes the importance of passing a law requiring all persons convicted of capital offenses to be brought to the penitentiary at Baltimore as soon as sentenced, and executed here."

Murdered His Father-in-Law.

PRINCETON, Ind., May 29.—James Copley murdered his father-in-law, Philip Givens, near Patoka. Givens tried to oust Copley from land that he had rented. When he reached the farm the two commenced to quarrel. Givens made for him unarmed. Copley got out his knife and commenced carving his father-in-law, making slashes, severing the jugular vein and vessels at the wrist. Givens died shortly afterwards.

An Aged Woman Killed by a Train.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 29.—Mrs. Mary Garrahan, aged 83 years, of Luzerne borrough, was instantly killed, being horribly mangled by a Lehigh Valley train near her home. The old lady was deaf and did not hear or see the train. She was on her way to visit her daughter-in-law.

He Was the Last Survivor.

PARIS, May 29.—Albert, otherwise Alexander Martin, the last survivor of the government established by the national assembly in 1848, died yesterday near Creil, department of Oise. He was in his 81st year.

Pennsylvania's Republican Convention.

HARRISBURG, May 29.—Chairman Gilkeson has fixed Aug. 28 as the time for holding the state Republican convention to nominate a candidate for state treasurer. The convention will be held in this city.

TAKEN TO CHICAGO.

The Body of Secretary Gresham Now Westward Bound.

SIMPLE SERVICES IN WASHINGTON

The Body Accompanied to the Western Metropolis by President Cleveland and the Members of His Cabinet—Gossip Regarding the Succession.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Washington was hardly prepared for the announcement of the death of Secretary of State Walter Q. Gresham, for, although the fatal termination of the secretary's illness had been forecasted, there was no general apprehension that the end would come so soon. Flags were lowered to half mast on all public buildings and many business houses. Official business was for the time laid aside by the higher officers of the government, and the members of all official circles, together with prominent people in private life, hastened to the Arlington, where the Greshams have made their home in this city, to leave their cards and messages of condolence.

The president and Mrs. Cleveland called during the morning and were for half an hour with Mrs. Andrews, the daughter of the dead secretary of state, and Mr. Otto Gresham, the son. Afterward the president and several members of the cabinet held a conference at the White House to consider the arrangements for the funeral, and later in the day the president issued a proclamation paying a warm tribute to the character of his secretary of state. There was also a meeting of the diplomatic corps at the British embassy, where appropriate action was taken.

The funeral services in Washington were of the simplest and briefest possible character. There was neither sermon nor remarks. Bishop Hurst simply read the burial service of the Methodist Episcopal church, and there were two hymns sung by a select quartette one of the hymns being Cardinal Newman's "Lead Kindly Light."

The funeral ceremonies in Washington this forenoon were of a semi official character, as they were held in the east room of the White House, with the president and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, ambassadors and ministers, representatives of the departments and the army and navy and others present, and all official business is suspended for the day.

Major General Ruger commanded all of the military forces stationed about the Capitol, which acted as an escort for the funeral party from the White House to the depot, where a special train was in readiness to convey the party to Chicago. The train left Washington shortly after noon, and has on board President Cleveland and all of Secretary Gresham's colleagues of the cabinet, who will follow the body to the grave. The seven cabinet officers, with Assistant Secretary Uhl, who is acting secretary of state, will officiate as active pallbearers. Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle will join the funeral party at some point on the route.

The arrangement of the details of the Chicago portion of the services was performed by J. W. Doane and A. A. Sprague, of Chicago, intimate friends of the family. Mrs. Gresham will occupy the private car of the former.

The handsome cloth covered casket containing the remains of Secretary Gresham was removed during the afternoon to the front parlor of the suit of apartments of the Arlington. Many friends who were aware that the remains were visible to public view called last evening to take a last look at the dead. The features bore an unusually natural and life like appearance and showed no evidence of the ravages of disease. The expression of the face was remarkably peaceful and calm.

While the details of the ceremonies in Chicago are yet incomplete, it is settled that brief services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the cemetery, to which the body will be borne, accompanied by a military escort, in harmony with the day and Secretary Gresham's well known loyalty to his old time war associations.

Secretary Gresham's body will be temporarily deposited in a vault at Oakwoods cemetery, Chicago, pending a decision by the family as to the final resting place. When the train bearing the funeral party reaches Chicago it will be switched off the main tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad to the Illinois Central and run to a station convenient to Oakwoods cemetery. A military escort from Fort Sheridan will accompany the remains from the station to the cemetery.

The present expectation is that the funeral procession will reach the cemetery at 2 o'clock. Here a brief funeral service will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. McPherson, of the Second Presbyterian church, Chicago. After its completion the party will separate, the president and the members of the cabinet returning directly to Washington.

Oakwoods is in the southern part of Chicago, and it is the understanding that the President and his party will not be taken into the heart of the city. Word reached here that Vice President Stevenson also expects to join the funeral party at Chicago and attend the services at the cemetery.

The meeting of the diplomatic corps at the British embassy last night was very fully attended, all of the foreign embassies and legations being represented. Sir Julian Pauncefote, dean of the corps, acted as chairman. The discussion was informal, and there was an avoidance of set speeches. As each of the ambassadors and ministers had received from Acting Secretary Uhl an official notification of the death of Secretary Gresham it was determined that each should send a reply expressive of his government's sympathy. In addition to this Sir Julian was authorized to address a letter of condolence to the family of the deceased, a mark of the personal esteem in which the foreign representatives held the late secretary.

There is considerable speculation by politicians and others outside of administration circles as to the probable successor to Secretary Gresham. Prominent among the large number of names mentioned in this connection are those of Attorney General Olney, Mr. Uhl, the present assistant secretary of state; Senator Gray, of Delaware; Ambassadors Bayard and Eustis, ex-Secretary Whitney and ex-Postmaster General Dickinson. All of the predictions, however, are purely speculative, as the subject has not been mentioned; much less discussed, by the president or any one in his confidence. The president has thirty days under the law within which to make his selection, and it is thought that a choice will not be definitely determined upon for some time yet.

Philadelphia's Sound Money Meeting.

PHILADELPHIA, May 29.—The opening gun of the sound money campaign in the east was fired last night at an enthusiastic public meeting in the Academy of Music. The affair was under the management of a group of the best known financial and business men of the community, and attracted wide attention, almost every seat in the parquet and two of the tiers being occupied. The principal speakers of the evening were ex-United States Senator George F. Edmunds, ex-Comptroller of the Currency William L. Trenholm, Congressman Michael D. Harter, of Ohio; ex-Minister to Russia Charles Emory Smith and Joseph Wharton.

The Will of Hugh McCulloch.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The will of the late Hugh McCulloch, the ex-secretary of the treasury, was filed yesterday. It names Charles McCulloch, a son, as executor, and bequeaths most of the property to the widow, Susan McCulloch. At the death of Mrs. McCulloch all the property devised to her will be divided among the four children Marie S. McCulloch and Mrs. Louise Tate, both daughters, receive $5,000 each, while a nephew, Hugh McCulloch, [illegible] receive $500. By a codicil the two farms in Maryland are left to two daughters after the death of the widow.

Applegate Won the American Stakes.

GRAVESEND, L. I., May 29.—J. J. McCafferty's 2-year old colt Applegate won the Great American stakes, five furlongs, defeating the crack 2-year-olds of the east in hollow fashion. He was the ruling favorite, and won by two open lengths in 1.02. Hazlet finished second and Handspring third. The track was a trifle slow, due to the recent rains. McCafferty and his friends won handsomely on the race. McCafferty's share of the stakes amounted to between $7,000 and $8,000.

From Affluence to Poverty.

BROOKLYN, May 29.—Elisha B. Morrell, 76 years of age, an ex-alderman and also ex-superintendent of the poor of this city, and at one time worth over $300,000, died alone and penniless last Saturday and was buried in the potters' field yesterday. His application for admission to the almshouse had just been favorably acted upon, when he was found dead. Morrell made a fortune in the grocery business and lost it in Wall street speculation.

Killed Her Daughter and Herself.

BALTIMORE, May 29.—Mrs. Marion Curtain, 45 years old, murdered her 14-year-old daughter Mamie at her home, 1713 Aisquith street, and afterward committed suicide. She killed her daughter with a razor and cut her own throat with the same instrument. It is supposed the woman was temporarily insane.

Harris' Murderers Probably Arrested.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The police believe they have in custody the two men who murdered Ferdinand Harris, the colored butler, at the residence of M. G. D. Borden. The men who have been arrested are Louis Dittmier and Edward Butt. A reward of $10,000 is offered for the murderers by Mr. Borden.

Stambuloff Demands a Passport.

SOFIA, May 29.—Ex-Premier Stambuloff has written a letter to Premier Stoiloff demanding that the government immediately grant him a passport and enclosing a certificate from his physician that the state of his health is such that further delay in his removal to another climate will be fatal.

Negro Colonists Reported Murdered.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 29.—Jim Crawley and two other negroes who have arrived from the negro colony in Mexico that went from Georgia say that thirty-two of their number were recently murdered near Monclova because they tried to escape to the United States from their slavery.

A Defaulter for Fifty Thousand Dollars.

DETROIT, May 29.—J. Huff Jones, who died about two years ago, has been demonstrated to have been a defaulter of nearly $50,000. Mr. Jones acted as trustee of two wards, Henry K. Jones and Matilda Thompson, heirs of DeGarmo Jones.

Bethlehem's Industrial Boom.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., May 29.—The Spreglelsen Zinc works, of this city, were put in operation yesterday, after an idleness of several years. This will give employment to three shifts of men. All the industries here are now in full blast.

Fatally Burned by a Lamp Explosion.

WILMINGTON, Del., May 29.—Mrs. Annie Muna, of 102 East Fourth street, was fatally burned by the explosion of a lamp at her home last night.

OHIO'S REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE.

General Asa S. Bushnell Gets the Gubernatorial Nomination.

ZANESVILLE, O., May 29.—The Republican state convention was called to order here yesterday promptly at 4 p. m., by Colonel Joseph Bonner, chairman of the state committee. A half hour previous the hall was packed to its full capacity of 5,000, and a larger number was unable to gain admittance. Senator Sherman and ex-Governor Foraker were given stirring ovations as they entered the hall, and the delegates were bubbling over with enthusiasm throughout.

Senator Sherman was chosen chairman of the convention, and made a speech of acceptance in which he predicted an overwhelming victory at the polls.

At the evening session the following names were presented to the convention for the nomination for governor: J. W. Barger, J. Warren Keifer, J. H. Hoyt, George K. Nash, Robert M. Nevin, A. L. Harris and E. W. Poe. General Bushnell's name was not presented by any speaker. There were 827 delegates in the convention, 414 being necessary to a choice.

The first ballot resulted as follows: Bushnell, 53. Barger, 85; Harris, 56; Hoyt, 179½; Keifer, 71; Nash, 105; Nevin, 69; Poe, 146½. On the second ballot Bushnell had 83, on the third 159, on the fourth 347, on the fifth 410 and on the sixth 490, the final balloting resulting:

On the sixth ballot General Asa S. Bushnell was nominated, receiving 502 votes: Nash, 201; Hoyt, 111. The result of the nomination was received as a great victory for Foraker, amid very loud demonstration.

Resolutions were adopted urging William McKinley as the next Republican candidate for president and Joseph B. Foraker as United States senator.

A Judge Indicted for Drunkenness.

LUMBERTON, N. C., May 29.—Judge W. R. Norwood, one of the fusion "non-partisan" judges of the superior court elected last November, has been indicted by the grand jury of this county for drunkeness. The superor court judges, of whom there are twelve, rotate in this state, so that the same judge holds the courts of the same district but once in six years. Judge Norwood came here on Monday morning, but at the hour when court should have been opened he was too drunk to hold court. On Tuesday he was able to open court at the usual time, but after a session of one hour he adjourned court until the next day. On Tuesday evening the judge drank again, and there was consequently no court on Wednesday. The same thing occurred on Thursday and the next day. So the grand jury of the judge's own court found an indictment against him.

Religious Paper Excluded from the Mails.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The Church Union, a religious paper published in New York by Miss Elizabeth Grannis, and which has for associate editors Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, Bishop J. P. Newman, Miss Frances E. Willard, Rev. C. C. Salter, Dr. Joseph R. Wilson and others, was yesterday excluded from the mails on the ground that it contained a lottery advertisement, and that the paper was in fact conducting a lottery business. The paper offered about $2,000 in prizes to aid in securing subscribers, and these prizes were to be awarded by a system of numbering the subscriptions as fast as received.

Colombia Claims the Mosquito Territory.

COLON, Colombia, May 29.—The Colombian press has very generally taken up the question of Colombia's claim to the Mosquito territory, and are clamorous in their demands that the government should urge the claim. It is claimed that when Colombia gained her independence, in 1810, she became the rightful possessor of the Mosquito territory and exercised domain over it until 1834. It is further denied that Colombia ever relinquished her domain over this territory in the treaty with the Central American states.

Parliament Will Not Dissolve.

LONDON, May 29.—The Daily News this morning again denies the rumor of a dissolution of parliament, and says that it understands that the government admits the necessity, for administrative purposes, of building a railway between Mombasa and Lake Victoria, in Africa.

Hurrying the Turkish Officials.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 29.—The British embassy, while intimating that it is useless to propose to modify the scheme of the powers for Armenian reforms, is trying to get the porte to fix the time when it will give an answer to the address of the powers on the subject.

Earthquake in Vermont.

BATTLEBORO, Vt., May 29.—An earthquake shock was plainly felt in this town yesterday. A rumbling noise accompanied the earth movements. In some parts of the county people were badly frightened, and their dwellings were rocked and foundations injured.

Guilty Without Capital Punishment.

NEW ORLEANS, May 29.—The case of John J. Davis, crier of the criminal court, for the murder of Deputy Sheriff George Roya, was given to the jury Monday night. Last evening a verdict was brought in of "guilty without capital punishment."

A Monster Fall of Rock.

BERNE, Switzerland, May 29.—A tremendous fall of rock from the Schwarz mountain into the Lauterbrunnen valley has swept away whole forests on the slope of the mountain, and has caused immense destruction of property.

LONDON, May 29.—Upon the advice of his physician Prince Bismarck has declined the emperor's invitation to attend the exercises at Kiel incident to the opening of the canal.

A HUNDRED LIVES LOST.

Wreck of the French Passenger Steamer Dom Pedro.

ONLY THIRTY-EIGHT WERE SAVED

Of a Hundred and Forty-one Souls on Board—The Vessel Struck on a Rock Off Cape Corrubedo and Then Her Boiler Exploded.

CADIZ, May 29.—The French steamer Dom Pedro, bound for Carril, Spain, has been wrecked off Cape Corrubedo. The number who perished in the disaster is now ascertained to be 103 and only thirty-eight were saved. The survivors have taken refuge in the little town of Villagarcia, in the province of Pontevedra, twenty miles north of the town of Vigo. The little town is located on the southern shore of the Bay of Arosa and has a small harbor for fishing vessels, the population numbering less than 2,000 souls.

The Dom Pedro was a 2,000-ton steamer, and was engaged in running regularly between Havre and the Argentine Republic, calling at Bordeaux, France, for passengers, and Carril, Spain, for freight and passengers. The latter were mostly emigrants bound for the Argentine Republic or other parts of South America.

On her return trips the Dom Pedro was generally loaded with frozen meat. She left Havre on May 9 last with a crew of forty-nine, all told, and with eighty passengers on board.

At Carril the steamer was to have embarked 200 additional passengers. But on her way to that port she ran on a rock off Cape Corrubedo, on the west coast of Galicia, her boiler exploded and the vessel foundered almost immediately afterwards.

The Dom Pedro had a valuable cargo and many Spanish emigrants on board. All the officers except the captain were lost. Thirty-eight passengers and sailors were saved, chiefly by people along the coast, who went out in their small boats and rescued the survivors with much difficulty. Twenty-four of these have arrived at Carril and the remainder are at Villagarcia. They say the scene was horrible in the extreme.

[Cape Corrubedo, where the vessel was wrecked, is on the western coast of Galicia, near the entrance to the Bay of Vigo. This coast from Cape Finisterre to the Bay of Vigo is very dangerous in rough weather. The coast line is broken by many fiords, which are full of submerged reef and narrow channels. This coastline presents the most southerly prolongation of the fiord or firth system of Norway, western Scotland and Ireland forming, as usual, fine harbors; but, as intimated above, ones very difficult of access.]

Another Marine Disaster Rumored.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—A dispatch was received last night by the father of one of the passengers on the Pacific mail steamship Colima from Manzanilla, which read: "Saved; will wire particulars later." The Colima sailed for Panama and way ports on May 18, and this is the first news that anything has happened to her. Manzanilla is about half way between San Blas and Acapulco, Mexico. The vessel at this date would have been in that vicinity.

Four Hundred Idle Through a Mill Fire.

TOLEDO, May 29.—Roth & Friedman's knitting factory was totally destroyed by fire last evening. The factory is a large four story building, and within twenty minutes after the fire was discovered the walls fell in. Several firemen were severely scorched, but none seriously injured. A number of persons were also slightly hurt by flying bricks when the walls fell. The loss is about $165,000. Four hundred and fifty people are thrown out of employment.

Reading's Knights Templar Parade.

READING, May 29.—The parade of the Pennsylvania Knights Templar was a success in every particular, there being about 2,200 Sir Knights in line, including delegations from all sections of the state. The parade was reviewed in Penn square by the officers of the Grand Commandery from a handsomely decorated stand. The marching of the Knights was very fine, and great applause greeted them all along the route.

Hayes on Trial for Murder.

BRIDGETON, N. J., May 29.—The trial of Alexander, alias "Sandy" Hayes, colored, for the murder of John Booth, was begun before Supreme Court Justice Alfred Reed. The gates leading to the court house were guarded by constables, and only those holding tickets were admitted besides the jurymen and witnesses. The court house was crowded with spectators. Some difficulty was had in getting a jury.

Another Cycling Record Broken.

LOUISVILLE, May 29.—M. F. Direnberger broke the world's bicycle record for one-third of a mile, flying start, unpaced, at the Fountain Ferry track yesterday. He rode the distance in 0:36 2-5. The former record was held by Arthur Gardiner, who made the distance in 0:39 1-5, at Waltham.

Pasteur Refuses a German Decoration.

PARIS, May 29.—M. Louis Pasteur, the French chemist, who has attained remarkable results in the prevention of hydrophobia by inoculation, has refused a German decoration which has been awarded him as a result of his labors in the cause of humanity and science.

Miss Dodge's Condition Critical.

WASHINGTON, May 29. Mary A. Dodge (Gail Hamilton) suffered another stroke of paralysis Monday, and has been unconscious most of the time since. Late last night she revived somewhat, and at midnight appeared stronger. Mr. Hitt continues to improve.

To Strike for Higher Wages.

IRONTON, O., May 29.—At a meeting of the employes of the Kelly and Belfont iron and nail mills they made an agreement to strike for a restoration of the 33 per cent. cut in their wages. The strike will begin Saturday, and affects about 1,200.

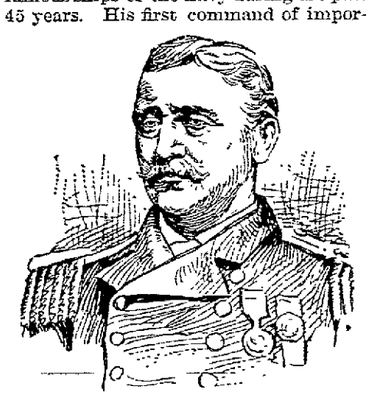
REAR ADMIRAL RICHARD MEADE.

His Career as a Reckless Talker and as a Gallant Naval Officer.

Rear Admiral Richard Warsam Meade, retired, whose recent criticisms of the administration caused a great deal of court martial gossip, has long been known as one of the great talkers of the navy. When he has anything to say, he says it regardless of rules and regulations. A number of years ago he resigned from the navy and went into railroading as one of Jay Gould's lieutenants. One of his first acts was to give out a sensational interview to a railroad reporter. The interview caused a flurry in Wall street, and as Jay Gould did not favor lieutenants who talked Meade speedily applied for reinstatement in the navy.

Admiral Meade was born in New York city Oct. 9, 1837, and was appointed a midshipman from California in October, 1850. He was a son of Richard Worsam Meade, a naval officer who rose to the rank of commodore, and a nephew of General George Gordon Meade, the hero of Gettysburg. He has cruised in every sea and served on nearly all the famous ships of the navy during the past 45 years. His first command of importance was the ironclad Louisiana of the western flotilla in 1862, and the next year he commanded the gunboat United States in her chase of the troublesome privateer Tacony.



REAR ADMIRAL MEADE, RETIRED.

During the draft riots in New York in 1863 he was in command of the naval brigade that did excellent shore duty. During the operations around Charleston harbor in 1863 Meade, then a lieutenant commander, was in charge of the gunboat Marblehead. On Christmas morning, while at anchor near Legareville, she had an hour and a half engagement with Confederate batteries on John's island. The Marblehead was struck 20 times during the engagement and had three men killed and four wounded. The batteries were silenced, and Meade personally led a shore expedition that not only captured two eight inch seacoast howitzers, but dragged them to the beach and landed them aboard the Marblehead. He was publicly complimented for his gallantry. He was also highly complimented later by Admiral Farragut for his work in cutting out the blockade runner Delphina under the enemy's guns.

Quick Work.

The whole garrison of Paris was mobilized without warning at an hour's notice. Directions were sent at 11 o'clock to have the men ordered out at midnight ready for war. They were armed, provided with rations and ammunition and marched through the streets to the different railroad stations within two hours.

Jack Astor Will Not Race.

There is a lot of talk about Jack Astor going to make his debut on the running turf with a great stable and all that sort of thing, but you can depend on it absolutely that he will do nothing of the kind this season.

What he may do another season is quite another thing, but the present season will not see the Astor colors on the turf.—New York Recorder.

Thinks She Is a Snake.

There is a negro girl near Crawfordsville, Ga., who says she is a snake. She coils and writhes about like an adder. Doctors say that she is nervously affected and from the teachings of some one she has been led to believe that she has a snake about her person.—Albany Herald.

A Shame.

A Missouri legislator threatens to sue a St Louis paper for charging that he goes fishing on Sunday. We hope he will recover large damages. It would be a pity if a statesman couldn't go fishing without the papers telling his wife all about it.—Chicago Dispatch.

FOR HIS COUNTRY.

Secretary Carlisle, Though a Splendid Financier, Is a Poor Man.

At a small town up in the mountains the train stopped. Secretary Carlisle stepped out upon the platform and paced up and down. The loiterers eyed him curiously. "Is that Mr. Carlisle, the great financier?" asked one of them.

"Yes," I answered.

"He is one of the greatest financiers in this hull world, ain't he?"

"That is what he is."

"Gosh, but he must be a rich man."

"No, Mr. Carlisle is a poor man. He isn't worth $1,000 to his name above his debts. He is getting poorer all the time."

"Say, mister," retorted the mountaineer, "do you call that good financiering?"

"No, it is not good financiering," I replied, "not from Mr. Carlisle's standpoint and his family's standpoint. But cannot you conceive of a man who is big and generous and patriotic enough to forget himself, to get into the habit of forgetting himself in his desire to serve his country? Whether you can understand it or not, that is the kind of a man Mr. Carlisle is. He has worked for the country so long that he feels he can do nothing else. It is his career, his life work, his second nature. You can understand a man who has preached the gospel for 30 years, getting a bare subsistence out of it, and who is suddenly offered a good salary to do something else and refuses it. He feels he must stay by his work, the work that has had his brain, his heart and his best years. Well, that is Mr. Carlisle's case. He belongs to the tribe of unselfish public servants—professional public servants, if you like that phrase better. He is almost incapable of thinking of his own interests. He is giving his life to his country, just as much as any soldier that marched up and down the Shenandoah valley back here, and who finally laid himself down to die by the banks of that stream."

This may have been a trifle poetical, but the countryman nettled me with his grin when he thought he had knocked Mr. Carlisle and me out with one stone. Besides it was true. When Carlisle was in congress, he had a little law practice with which to eke out his salary. It helped him to keep out of debt. His family wanted him to stay in the senate, because they knew he would have to give up his law practice, small as it was, when he went into the treasury. Ambition, devotion to public service, or something, drove him into the cabinet, and he has been getting deeper into debt ever since. It is a curious commentary upon the miserable salaries paid our chief government officials that the man who controls the fiscal affairs of the government, $500,000,000 a year or thereabout, should have trouble in meeting his rent. It is also a pretty good certificate to his honesty, if he needs one, and Mr. Carlisle doesn't.—Special Cor. Chicago Times-Herald.

Professor Langley's Flying Machine.

The Langley flying machine, it is reported, flew a distance of 1,000 feet, at a test, down the Potomac a few days ago. The machine is now propelled by storage batteries placed under the wings and moves independently of any control from the float from which the flights are made. It is now believed that the machine will fly a great distance.

Professor Langley has already spent more than $50,000 in the experimental work, and he believes that before long he will be able to build a practical machine. All of the recent tests have been for the purpose of developing certain facts in relation to propellers of different size and shape. It is understood that Alexander Melville Bell and Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, have placed at Professor Langley's disposal a sufficient sum of money to enable him to work freely without fear of financial embarrassment.—New York World.

Choate's Fee of $200,000.

A group of members of the legal profession were talking about the income tax decision, when some allusion was made to the size of the fees that were paid to counsel employed to fight the tax.

"I have it on the best authority," said an eminent lawyer from New York, "that Joseph Choate's retainer in the case was $160,000, with the understanding that if the decision of the court was favorable to the opponents of the tax he was to get $100,000 additional."—Washington Post.

Repealed Its Own Law.

The New York legislature just before its adjournment broke a quarter of a century record by repealing a law passed at the same session. The bill in question provided that a widow should be an heir at law to her husband's property in case he died intestate. It is a significant fact that most of the lawyers in the legislature had not read the bill until after it became a law.—Boston Globe.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50 cent bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

FUTURE OF THE SUSQUEHANNA.

Sharp Decline in the Price of Its Stock and Rumors of Control by Another Company.

The shares of the New York, Susquehanna and Western Railroad declined in price sharply in Wall street, yesterday. It had been noticeable, for some time past, that the shares of this company were weak in the face of a bull market—refused to go up when all other railroad shares advanced.

In explanation for this weakness in the company's securities, it is said President Simon Borg is about to retire from the management, and that he has for some time past been selling his large holdings of the preferred stock preparatory to this step. It is also hinted that the successor to the Borg administration will hand the property over to a large railroad-coal combine, presumably the D., L and W.

We give these stories out for what they may be worth. One thing is, however, apparent, which is that all the signs presage that a big stock jobbing operation is brewing in Susquehanna and Western.

Death of an Old Colored Woman—Ball Game—Preparing for Children's Day.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—Mrs. Kerr Millspaugh, an aged colored woman, who lived with her husband in the house of the Borden receiving station, near the Hamptonburgh line on the Goshen road, died there, Saturday morning. The family are in destitute circumstances and the woman died without the attendance of a physician during her sickness. Coroner Decker, of Middletown, was sent for, but he thought it unnecessary to act and authorized a doctor to make an examination and issue a burial certificate.

—Don't forget the ball game on Decoration Day.

—Editor Taft, of the Reporter, attended the editors' convention in New York city, last week.

—Preliminary preparations are being made for Children's Day in our churches.

THE WATKINS AVENUE MATTER.

The City Put to the Expense of Resetting the Curb.

It is an outrage upon the property owners of Watkins avenue that the grade established and accepted by the city should have been changed by City Engineer Smith so as to cause damage to properties built upon the original grade. It is also an outrage upon the taxpayers of the city that they should be required to pay for resetting the curb made necessary by this blunder. The expense should be borne by those responsible for it.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

Apportionment Bills Reconsidered—Sessions to be Open Tomorrow.

HARRISBURG, May 29—The Mackrell bill, prohibiting the sale of liquor by wholesale dealers in less quantites than a gallon, had a narrow escape from defeat in the house yesterday. The opposition to the bill would have killed it had not its friends postponed it, after its passage on third reading, by a vote of 88 to 69. The bill prohibiting the sale of intoxicants on Memorial Day was defeated.

The house has backed down on the apportionment question. The three bills defeated last Tuesday were reconsidered yesterday, after one of the most exciting debates of the session. The bills were then postponed for the present.

The order of business at the night session of the house was the consideration of appropriation bills on first reading. The bill to regulate the manner of changing county seats was defeated. The purpose of this bill was to remove the county seat of Bradford county from Towanda to Athens.

After dispatching a little unimportant business the senate unanimously concurred in the amended resolution designating Saturday, June 8, as the time for the final adjournment of the legislature.

After the passage of a number of bills on second reading the senate took up on special order the religious garb bill, introduced in the house by Mr. Smith, of Philadelphia. After discussing the measure in two sessions it was passed by a vote of 31 to 11. The measure now goes to the house for concurrence in senate amendments.

The judges' retirement bill passed first reading in the senate.

The governor sent two veto messages to the senate. The first expresses his disapproval of senate bill No. 295, which authorizes counties and municipal corporations to bring suits in certain cases after giving notice to the attorney general. The other veto applies to senate bill No. 131, which gave to common pleas courts the power to extinguish the right to mine coal and other minerals, etc., where the same had not been exercised for a period of twenty years

The Interstate Bridge.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Just thirteen days before the expiration of the year allowed by law for the submission of a satisfactory set of plans for the great bridge across the Hudson river, the New York and New Jersey Bridge company yesterday submitted to the secretary of war the rough draft of plans for the bridge. One set of plans were submitted last fall, and were rejected by the war department on the ground that they did not provide for a clear span bridge, but had piers obstructing the river. Whether the set now put in comply strictly with the department's demands remains for the engineer officers to decide.

Beat His Aged Wife to Death.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., May 29.—Samuel Burr, an elderly resident of Pointville, attacked his aged wife with a club as they were driving home from Shamong, and literally beat her to death, after which he made his escape and has not been arrested. Her body was found by the roadside, with the skull crushed in and otherwise mangled. Burr is said to have been insanely jealous, and was not considered to be of sound mind in other respects.

Fell Dead on His Wife's Grave.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., May 29.—George Watson, aged about 40 years, fell dead at the grave of his wife yesterday. He had been working at the grave decorating it for the celebration on Decoration Day.

THE PRESIDENT COMING TO MIDDLETOWN.

The Sick May Receive Medical Services Free of Charge.

The President and members of the European and American Staff of German, English, Irish, Scandinavian and American Doctors of New York city will be at the Russell House, Middletown, on one day only. The sick and afflicted may consult them without charge during their stay.

Tuesday, June 4th,

If you are incurable they will tell you; therefore invalids must not take offence if they are rejected, as no case will be accepted unless there is a moral certainty of a cure being effected. These Doctors are graduates of the best universities of Europe and America; they are of the highest standing in the medical profession and have had unlimited experience in the treatment of all Chronic Diseases and Deformities. As the latest methods, instruments and appliances of the various schools of both the Old and the New World are familiar to and at the command of this staff of doctors, it is reasonable to believe that in ninety cases out of every hundred a cure can be effected, even when the patients have been given up as incurable by doctors who have had less experience. Do not be discouraged because your doctor cannot give you relief, or even if he tells you that you cannot get well, for it matters not what your disease may be, you can consult the doctors free, and, if curable, they will treat you; if incurable, they will give you such advice as will tend to prolong life and afford you the greatest relief.

The doctor visits Middletown one day each month. Will be at 21 Broom street, Port Jervis, Wednesday, June 5th. Office hours from 10:30 a. m. to 6 p. m.

A. E. NICKINSON, BUSINESS MANAGER

WEDNESDAY, MAY 29, 1895.

Emigration from Ireland has almost ceased being now at the lowest point since 1851.

The earnings of the railroads are a certain index of the business condition of the country and the marked improvement noticeable in the railroad situation in all parts of the country is but one of many proofs that good times have come again.

The Consolidated Wire and Nail Company, employing 6,000 men at Lockport and Joliet, Illinois, St. Louis, Mo., and Allentown and Pittsburg, Pa., has notified its employes of a ten per cent. advance in wages, to take effect June 1st.

The refusal of Mayor Strong to either approve or disapprove the bill for the transfer of New York city's insane to State care is believed to have killed the measure, for it is assumed that, under the circumstances, the Governor will not sign the bill. Mayor Strong gives a good reason for his course. He was in favor of the end sought to be attained by the bill, but he could not approve it since it required the city to pay at once the $1,360,000 of taxes for the support of the State's insane, which were withheld in 1893 and 1894, on the ground that the city while supporting its own insane could not be required to help support those of other counties, and the matter being now in litigation he did not feel that he ought to be a party to saddling on the city what the courts might hold to be an illegal tax.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Proceedings of Last Night's Adjourned Meeting — Teachers Ask for Reappointment—Qualifications of Teachers —Bills Audited.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Education was held, last evening, present, President Wiggins and Messrs. Hanford, Galloway, Howell, Harding, Corwin, Powelson, and Supt. Tuthill.

Applications for reappointment to positions as teachers were received from the following and were placed on file: Arabella E. Wilcox, Bertha Morgans, May F. Mullin, Grace Schoonmaker, Katharine Harris, Mary E. Crist, Maud J. Morgans.

An application for appointment to a position as teacher was received from Miss May H. Corwin and filed.

The subject of fixing the standard of qualification for teachers caused considerable discussion and was finally laid upon the table.

Messrs. Harding, Powelson and Corwin were appointed a committee to consider the selection and appointment of a drawing teacher.

The following bills were audited and drafts ordered drawn:

THE MISSES PORTER'S SCHOOL.

Programme Arranged for Commencement Week.

The following order of exercises has been arranged for commencement week at the Misses Porter's school.

Baccalaureate sermon at Grace Church, Sunday evening, June 23rd, by Rev. David Evans.

Studio exhibit, June 24th, at the school, on Highland avenue.

Graduating exercises at the Assembly Rooms, June 25th, a. m.

Literary address and presentation of diplomas by Rev. William A. Robinson, D. D.

Concert, June 25th.

The Wyoming Historical Wild West Combined Shows gave two performances here yesterday, and we have never seen larger or better pleased audiences at any exhibition in the town. The Paris Hippodrome races are exciting and wonderful, and the reproduction of the Mountain Meadow massacre, and a vivid and most realistic drama of life in the land of the setting sun, were well worth double the price of admission. The lassoing of wild buffalo and long horned Texas steers, the rifle shooting of Buck Taylor, the wonderful performance of riding and driving at the same time, 35 wild mustangs, are all grand features. This show has a reputation of performing all it advertises. It deserves it.—Glen's Falls, N. Y. Daily Times.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY LIVES LOST

The Pacific Mail Steamship Colima Wrecked—Only One Boat Load Saved.

BY UNITED PRESS.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Indications are that over 150 persons perished in the wreck of the Pacific Mail steamship, Colima, which went ashore between Manzanilla and Acapulco, May 27th. Only nineteen are known to have been saved. There were forty cabin passengers, thirty-six steerage, forty Chinese and seventy officers and crew on board. One of the steamer's small boats containing fourteen passengers and five of the crew succeeded in reaching the Mexican coast, and it was this party that telegraphed news of the wreck.

Twelve of the cabin passengers were from New York. The others were South Americans. Most of the steerage passengers were from New York.

OHIO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The Ticket Completed — McKinley's Name Arouses No Great Enthusiasm,

BY UNITED PRESS.

ZANESVILLE, Ohio, May 29.—The Republican Convention reassembled, this morning. Ex-Secretary Foster submitted the platform, which was hurriedly read and quickly adopted. Moderate applause greeted the naming of McKinley as a candidate for the Presidency. A. W. Jones was nominated for Lieut. Governor, W. J. Gilbert for Auditor and Judge Minshall for Supreme Court Judge.

SHAKEN BY EARTHQUAKES.

BY UNITED PRESS.

GRAFTON, Vt., May 29.—Severe earthquake shocks were experienced in this vicinity, yesterday. Buildings were violently shaken.

OBITUARY.

Mrs Aurelia Wickham Nanny.

Mrs. Aurelia Wickham, wife of Harrison W. Nanny, Esq., died at her home on East Main street, Goshen, at 12:45, this morning.

We are requested to say that the funeral services and interment will be private and at the convenience of the family.

George A. Foster.

Mr. George A. Foster died, yesterday afternoon, at the residence of his son in-law, Joseph Corkey, No. 87 Sprague avenue, of general debility, after an illness of about four months. He was nearly eighty-four years old.

Mr. Foster was born in Goshen. He was a carpenter by trade, and resided most of his life in Circleville. He joined the M. E. Church at Bullville sixty years ago, and during his residence in this city, has been a member of St. Paul's.

He is survived by five children: Fannie, wife of Hiram Sease, of Circleville; Mrs. Mary C. Stone, of Poughkeepsie: John, of California; Albertus, of Wurtsboro, and Annie S. wife of Joseph Corkey, of this city. Three sons were in the army and died during the war.

For Love of a Telegraph Operator.

The reports in circulation concerning the attempted suicide of William Chadeayne, of Cornwall, are that the young man tried to kill himself because his love of Miss Cora Terwilliger, O. & W. operator at West Cornwall, was bitterly opposed by his father.

Tired Women

Should stop and consider the dangers which threaten them because of their weakness, languor and lack of ambition. Thousands of women find their strength unequal to the demands of duty. And yet there is no escape from the incessant round of care and toil. They must have strength. How shall it be given? By building up their systems through purified, enriched and vitalized blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla will give them strength because it will make their blood pure and enable it to feed the nerves upon proper nourishment. It will create an appetite, tone the stomach and invigorate every organ. It is what tired women need.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the Only True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye today. It feeds the nerves on pure blood.

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla. 25c.

MEMORIAL DAY ATTRACTIONS.

Many Things to Interest and Amuse To-morrow.

The attractions for to-morrow in this city and vicinity are many and of such a varied character, that no one should lack for amusement suitable to his taste.

In the morning will be the parade and memorial exercises of the Grand Army of the Republic.

From noon to 3 o'clock a clam bake will be served at Midway Park under the management of Eagle Hose Company.

In the afternoon, the bicycle races and Wild West show, together with the horse races at Goshen.

In the evening the Wild West again and another clam bake at Midway from 7 to 10 o'clock.

Of course Midway Park will be in full blast with its theatre, merry-go-round, roller coaster, bowling alleys and billiard rooms, not forgetting to mention the various attractions at "Little Coney Island".

A Sign of Better Times.

We find no better indication of business improvement than the increase of advertising. As an instance, we are now beginning the insertion of advertisements of Pain-Killer, a famous old household remedy which has not been advertised in the papers of this section for quite a period. The average life of a patent medicine is said to be less than two years, yet for more than 55 years Pain-Killer has been the family doctor in the homes of this country, and wherever it once goes it stays. Its low costs, great convenience and prompt action makes it a favorite remedy for the treatment of all the common ills of humanity. It is announced that the quantities in the bottles has recently been largely increased, which fact will doubtless further increase its popularity with the third and fourth generation of patrons, to whom it now appeals.

Wait for the Old Reliable! Hunting's Circus, Museum and Menagerie; larger and better than ever, will give two performances in Middletown, on Saturday, June 15.

The price of admission remains the same, 25 cents general admission. Children under nine years of age will be admitted for 10 cents in the afternoon only. At night everyone 25 cents. Wait for the show that has always kept faith with you.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Caillouette, Druggists, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with LaGrippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after useing three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We wont keep store or house without it." Get a free trial bottle at McMonagle and Rogers' Drug Store.

A CHANCE TO MAKE MONEY!

The times are hard, but here is a good show. In the last month I have made $175 selling Climax Dish Washers. I never saw anything take like they do. When any women see me wash the dinner dishes, clean and dry them in one minute, they buy one right away. Anyone can make $6 a day right at home easy. I have not canvassed, so anxious are the people for the Climax they send for them. Write to the Climax Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio, and they will send you circulars. It is easy selling what everybody wants to buy. I will make $3,000 this year easy.

SERIOUS RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

A Carriage Upset at the Corner of Beattie and Railroad Avenues, and the Occupants Thrown Under a Freight Car—The Man Not Badly Hurt But the Woman Seriously Injured.

A serious accident occurred, about 11 o'clock last night, at the corner of Beattie and Railroad avenues. Mr. H. Ketcham Wood, of Warwick, and Mrs. Annie Tuthill, of 52 Sprague avenue, had been out driving, and the team of horses became unmanageable in Beattie avenue. In attempting to make the turn at Railroad avenue the wagon was overturned, throwing both occupants out of the vehicle under the wheels of a freight car, which was standing in the O. and W. switch at that point. Mr. Wood received a severe shaking up, and Mrs. Tuthill was rendered unconscious.

The ambulance was summoned and Dr. Nelson was called. He found Mrs. Tuthill suffering from an injury to the spine and right hip, and he fears that she is injured internally. She was taken to her home and Mr. Wood was taken to the Bell House.

The horses fell down, but were stopped from running away by Mr. Jesse Barnes, who happened to be in the neighborhood. The off horse, a handsome sorrel, was badly injured, a deep cut having been made on the right hind leg, where the animal came in contact with the rim of one of the car wheels. The other horse was cut on the left hind leg. The team was taken to Rogers's livery stable on Sprague avenue. The buggy was badly damaged, the top being a complete wreck.

Mrs. Tuthill was suffering considerable pain this morning, and the full extent of her injuries cannot yet be learned.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT AT HAMPTON.

Two Newburghers Badly Hurt While Helping to Move the Paper Mill Boiler.

Shortly before noon, to-day, six horses were hitched to a rope attached to a big boiler for the Milo Paper Mill, that was being unloaded at New Hampton, and, as the horses started up and the rope straightened out, it tripped up two men, Hugh Clark and John Mack, both of Newburgh.

The men were thrown to the ground with such force that they were rendered unconscious and it was at first thought that both were killed.

A messenger was sent to this city for Dr. Gilson, who went at once to Hampton and made an examination. He found that Clark had sustained a fracture of the skull and Mack had one leg broken and an ankle dislocated.

Run Down by the Erie Way Freight.

From Our Otisville Correspondent.

While Mahlon Ketcham was crossing the tracks at the station, Monday, the way freight backed down on him, making kindling wood of the wagon. Fortunately Mr. Ketcham and the horses escaped unhurt. Naturally a crowd gathered and they came very near being run down by a coal train, only the prompt action of the engineer in reversing his engine having prevented a more serious accident.

CONFIRMATION AT GRACE CHURCH.

A Class of Thirty Persons Confirmed by the Bishop of Delaware—The Capron Memorial Altar Consecrated.

A class of thirty persons was confirmed at Grace Church, last night, by the Bishop of Delaware. Before the service the bishop consecrated the new altar recently erected in memory of Rev. Alexander Capron.

The confirmation service itself was preceded by a shortened form of evensong, followed by a strong sermon to the congregation on the text: "Go and Speak in the Temple the Word of Life." Then the candidates, ten at a time, came forward to the altar rails, and the bishop very solemnly laid his hand on the head of each separately, with the prayer: "Defend, O Lord, this thy child with Thy Heavenly grace, that he may continue Thine forever, and daily increase in Thy Holy Spirit more and more until he come to Thy everlasting kingdom." A short address was then given, full of fatherly counsel, to the newly confirmed, and with the grand old hymn: "Glorious Things of thee are Spoken, Zion, City of Our God," a most impressive service was concluded.

Each member of the class was subsequently introduced to Bishop Coleman.

A Village Terrorized by Tramps.

The citizens of Cochecton, Sullivan county, were in terror, last night, because of the presence in the village of a large party of burly and villainous looking young tramps, who alighted from trains at the water tank. Some householders sat up all night and a volunteer police force was on duty. The tramps, seeing the vigilance of the citizens, attempted no violence or pillage.

QUIET SUNDAYS AT MIDWAY PARK.

The Holders of Concessions Notified That They Must Not Run Their Privileges—Manager Rockwell's Letter.

To the different parties holding concessions in Midway Park:

GENTLEMEN:—As you all well know from conversation between yourselves and myself, I have always been from the start adverse to the operation of any amusements in the park on Sunday and have held that no matter what the money consideration might be to you I did not think it was best or wish you to run any of the privileges. I still think so.

I myself firmly believe in Sunday observance and whether or not this coincides with your views I know I have the support and belief of a large number of our best citizens. I know what your arguments have been, that what is fair for one is fair for all and that you had as much right to run as we to run our cars, and one privilege was no better than another. In this I must disagree with you as I think our cars are a public necessity and are used as such, while yours are for amusement only. And if our cars are sometimes used for amusement only, it is something we cannot help and beyond our control.

Our original idea in creating this park was to furnish an outing place for the people of these towns and to have a place entirely free from any objectionable features where ladies can go with their children and feel perfectly safe and assured of police protection. Now I feel confident that our efforts have been appreciated, and I do not wish you to do anything that will in any way depreciate our efforts.

We have been criticised by the papers for allowing you to operate on Sunday and particularly so by the Middletown Daily Press and I have no hesitation in saying it was very unjust in this last named paper, especially as they say the proposition to license just outside of the park was frustrated without our assistance, when you all know we were foremost in trying to stop it and did all in our power to attain it and worked in very many directions that the public knew nothing about. We do not, like the Press, undertake to belittle the efforts of others, for we realize we would have been beaten were it not for the noble efforts of many citizens like Mr. Dewsnap, but still think our own efforts were of some value.

Now as to Sunday operations we are obliged to make some exceptions and though it may seem to be unjust I hope you will look at it in the same light as I do; for instance, there are many people who wish to go to the top of the incline for a view and this is looked upon much the same as our own cars; the boats also are quiet and annoy no one; also Mr. Gunther's privilege. So hereafter you will all please adhere to the conditions of your lease and cease operating on Sunday with the following exceptions, Mr. Gunther's privilege, the boats and the incline, but not the roller coaster.

I know you have held that the Press was only the opinion of one person and that I am governed too much by its influence. Now as to that I want to say that where I thought I was right I should pay no attention to adverse criticism by the Press, but in this instance, where I believe it voices the sentiment of the people, I believe we should respect the wishes of the people and although you are in the majority in wishing to run on Sunday. I hope you will all feel satisfied and comply willingly with our request, believing that what is your interest is our interest.

Yours very respectfully,

MIDDLETOWN-GOSHEN TRACTION CO.

BAD BUSINESS METHODS.

The Extension of Highland Avenue Needed Away and Nothing Given in Return.

The fact that a special committee of the Common Council has been appointed to confer with Mr. D. R. Miller in regard to the extension of Highland avenue, does not speak well for the business methods of the present administration.

When North street was widened and graded to the city limits, Mr. Miller, who owned the land beyond the old toll gate, laid out an extension of Highland avenue to the North Plank road, and at the same time set a curbing across the old road leading to Highland avenue, thus shutting off the old street. Not very long ago he asked the Council to give him a deed for the old road, which it did, so that the city has now no outlet from Highland avenue to North street, except over the lands of Mr. Miller, who has forbidden the Street Superintendent to do work upon the extension through his lands and thus acquire title.

What the Council should have done before giving Mr. Miller a deed for the old road was to require him him to give a release of the extension of Highland avenue. It is a case of one man getting the best of ten in a real estate transaction.

The possession of the old road enables Mr. Miller to lay out several desirable lots, but it shuts Middletown out of the North Plank road by way of Highland avenue, unless Mr. Miller sees fit to open up a street.

POLICE INSPECTOR CORTRIGHT.

A Sussex County Man Who Has Won Honor on the New York Police Force.

Captain Moses W. Cortright, of the New York police force, who was appointed an acting inspector upon the retirement of Superintendent Byrnes, was born in Wantage, Sussex county. He removed with his family to Sparrowbush when but a boy. He was employed in Schultz's tannery until he was eighteen years old, when he went to Oakland and assisted O. B. Wheeler in his tannery. He served in the army from 1861 to 1864, attaining the rank of lieutenant.

After the war he returned to Oakland and for a time was partner with Mr. Wheeler's sons in the canning business.

He went to New York in 1867 and was appointed a patrolman. He was promoted to roundsman in 1872, to sergeant in 1877 and captain in 1884.

THE 24TH'S "MAY DANCE."

The Drill Season Closes With Dancing and Merry Making

The drill season of the Twenty-Fourth Separate Company closed, last night. The company appeared in field dress with campaign hats and leggins, and after a short drill, the company was dismissed and the armory was turned over to those who wished to participate in the "May Dance."

There was a large crowd of merry young people present, and dancing, to the excellent music of Berg's orchestra, was continued long after midnight. Among those present was a large delegation of young people from Goshen, who had chartered a special car.

The evening proved to be a most enjoyable one, and was a most appropriate ending to a successful military and social season.

THAT WOMAN'S BIBLE

NEW WOMAN SETS OUT TO MAKE A TRANSLATION OF HER OWN.

Mrs. Stanton Says the Old Version Put Woman In a False Light—Commentators Discuss Objectionable Passages—Mrs. Stanton's Ideas on Genesis.

Woman, in the person of Elizabeth Cady Stanton, has laid her hand upon Genesis, the Exodus, Leviticus, the Psalms of David and the Songs of Solomon, the script of Matthew and the word of the Acts, and is about to bring forth from them and their companion pieces a new Bible. The revision or new translation is to be The Woman's Bible. The version of the Bible addressed to "the most high and mighty Prince James" and the revision of the same, completed but a few years ago, leaves woman's position in the Scriptures, asserts Mrs Stanton, far inferior to that of man. Deductively the creation of Adam before Eve was not an error of the Almighty, but of the translator who first attempted to give his word to the English speaking races.

Mrs. Stanton's colaborers or apostles in the preparation of the new work are named to include Lady Henry Somerset, Miss Frances Lord, Mrs Stanton Blatch, who is Mrs. Stanton's daughter, and Mrs. Alice Cliff Scatcherd of England and the following of America:

Frances E Willard, Lillie D. Blake, Rev. Phebe Hanaford, Mrs L B Chandler, Rev Olympia Brown, Carrie Chapman-Catt, Mrs Robert Ingersoll, Josephine K. Henry, Ellen B Dietrick, C A. F Stebbins, Frances E Burr, Helen M. Gardener, Matilda Joslin Gage, Clara Bewick Colby, Sarah A Underwood, Mrs E B Grannis, Mary A. Livermore.

Mrs. Chandler is to have the revision of the book of Timothy, wherein the lines run:

"But I suffer not a woman to teach nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence."

Matilda Gage will revise Matthew and Revelation, while Mrs. Stanton herself will edit, expurgate and interpolate Genesis. At her 80 years of age (she will celebrate that birthday in November) the task set is no light one. She hopes the book will be completed this year and thinks it will contain about 400 pages.

In the cause of the new woman Mrs. Stanton has felt that the worst foe to her advancement was the misconception of the present Bible as regards woman. Some of the advanced women of New York felt as Mrs. Stanton did and joined with her in the preparation of a new version of the book of books. Mrs Stanton was made head of the revision committee, which is to interpolate into sweeter phrase the ancient Syriac lines addressed to the mother of all men:

"I will greatly multiply thy sorrow; in sorrow thou shalt bring forth children, and thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee."

Mrs. Stanton said to the little group of women gathered about her in New York when she first broached the question of a Bible for women alone.

"Sufficient attention has not been given to the position of woman in the divine book. The various revisions have treated with scant consideration those portions relating to woman. In the agitation to secure equal rights and privileges for woman the Bible is constantly referred to to show the inferiority of the sex. This being so, it is absolutely necessary that the misconceptions as to the attitude of the Bible toward woman arising from wrong translations and interpretations should be corrected."

The active co-operation of Lady Henry Somerset and Miss Frances Willard was sought, and it was given forth that these distinguished ladies had approved of Mrs. Stanton's departure from the voice of Judah and the small voice speaking in the wilderness. But The Union Signal of April 25 disproves this assertion, and in an editorial paragraph makes clear the position of Miss Willard and Lady Henry. The Union Signal says:

"The latest misapprehension concerning Miss Willard and Lady Henry Somerset is that they are helping to edit a woman's Bible. The facts are that they agree to be members of a committee to prepare an exegesis of those passages in the Bible that relate to woman's position in the church and state, with the understanding that Miss Elizabeth W Greenwood and a number of women evangelists should be associated with themselves and other leading women in the undertaking This will undoubtedly be done, but the arrangements have not yet reached a stage where they can be given to the public."

They may have recalled the old lines from the Bible, and written in letters of gold, over the Gate of the Women where the feet of Ben-Hur once came:

"A foolish woman is clamorous; she is simple and knoweth nothing."

The new Bible is not yet completed, but so far progressed that its publication is a probability. How far the work of the revisers has extended into the Greek, Syriac and Latin versions is not made known. What special rules for correcting existing translations, what new fountains of knowledge have been drawn on, has not been ascertained Mrs. Stanton herself, in speaking on the subject in New York Saturday, threw no light upon this interesting phase of the revision.—Chicago Times-Herald.

HIS STRANGE MANIA.

QUEER INSTANCE OF INSANITY CAUSED BY FOOTBALL.

One of Carpmael's Eccentricities Is His Belief That His Wife Is Mentally Unsound—Violent Exercise Injured His Nerves, and He Kicked Her.

The developments in the case of the Toland medical student, E. D. Carpmael of Berkeley, who is seeking to have his wife sent to an insane asylum, reveal one of the strangest instances of mania in the history of insanity.

According to Mrs. Carpmael, her husband is insane, and one of the eccentricities of his mania is his belief that his wife is unsound mentally.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Carpmael are English people. Mrs. Carpmael says that three years ago her husband matriculated at the University of London with great honors and promised to be one of the brightest students at that institution of learning. He was young and of very fine and delicate nervous organization. He became infatuated with football and played with great zest. The violent exercise injured his nerves and has played sad havoc with his mind. It was shortly after their marriage three years ago that Mr. Carpmael took to playing football. Up to that time he had treated his wife lovingly and with deep respect. But after he began to indulge so much in football his wife observed a change in his manner. His sleep was fitful, and his mind became overwrought

He grew moody at times, and when his wife noticed his peculiarities and tried to help him he became apprehensive and intimated to his friends that he thought his wife's mind was becoming deranged.

Things went on this way for some time until one night he kicked his wife cruelly She realized that he was not in his right mind and kept the matter secret.

In other ways his mania, Mrs. Carpmael says, began to assert itself. Finally his health began to fail, and he was induced to leave college and England and come to America. The young student and his wife went to California. For awhile his treatment of his wife was better, and she looked forward to his complete recovery.

Some time after he tried to introduce the Rugby style of football game in San Francisco and became well known in college sporting circles. His insane treatment of his wife returned, she says, with the renewal of football playing. Finally she had to defend herself, and he left her one night and did not return for three months

Worry and abuse and lack of food—for he spent the main part of the allowance on himself, Mrs. Carpmael says—had made her an invalid. But sick and weak, with two little children, she went out to make her living in San Francisco and got a position, working for 25 cents a day.

After three months he returned and for awhile seemed to be getting better. But again his peculiar malady came back, and his treatment of his wife became unbearable. She tried to reason him into his old gentleness and gallantry, but he grew moody

One morning, after one of these spells, he began an action in San Francisco for divorce.

Friends of the family now thought it was time to interfere, and the news was sent to Carpmael's father in London He sent a reply to Dr. Shiels of San Francisco, stating that if his son did not recall the suit his allowance should be stopped.

Dr. Shiels is a friend of Student Carpmael's father. The latter, realizing that his son's mind was, temporarily at least, disturbed, had been sending the money monthly to Dr. Shiels, to be given to the young man. Dr. Shiels communicated the message to the student, and it had the desired effect. He withdrew the divorce proceedings. He was also induced to give up football.

"He has not kicked me since he stopped playing football," said Mrs Carpmael recently, "but in many other ways his actions show that his mind is becoming more disturbed I am willing that he should have a divorce It seems to me it would be better.

"At the medical department Mr. Carpmael is making a particular study of insanity. One of his manias is to analyze my traits in his theses as indications of insanity. He has taken me into his confidence at times and told me he was going to outline my pathological condition to the professors and see what could be done for me. I have looked at his papers after they have been marked by the professors, and in every instance the instances of insanity founded upon his observances of me have been marked as being erroneous."—San Francisco Examiner is injurious, but nothing gives strength, and tones up the stomach like a pure old port wine. "Royal Ruby Port," so called for its royal taste and ruby color, is on account of its purity, age and strength, particularly adapted for invalids, convalescents and the aged. Sold only in bottles (never in bulk) while cheap wine is sold by the gallon and gives a larger profit to the seller but less to the user. This wine is absolutely pure, and has the age without which no wine is fit to use. Be sure you get "Royal Ruby"; quart bottles $1, pints 60 cts. Sold by

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. is on every wrapper.

DON'T STOP TOBACCO

It is Injurious To Stop Suddenly

And don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of the use of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about "BACO-CURO." It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with "BACO-CURO." It will notify you when to stop and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An ironclad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded.

Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being at least. I tried the so-called "Keeley Cure," "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Baco-Curo." Three weeks ago to-day I commenced using your preparation, and to-day I consider myself completely cured; I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it.

Yours very truly, C. W. HORNICK.

Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for thirty-three years and during the past two years have used chewing tobacco very extensively. My nervous system is much affected considerable. I have often tried to give up the use of tobacco, but always failed, until I bought three boxes of your "Baco-Curo." I used tobacco at the same time while taking "Baco-Curo," and after a week I lost the appetite for tobacco—smoking or chewing. I am enjoying better health and consider your "Baco-Curo" the safest, most harmless and reliable remedy for to break the tobacco habit.

Yours truly, JOHN RODDEN.

Gentlemen—Last summer I furnished Mr James Reid, of the town of Burnside, Trempealeau Co., with three boxes of your "Baco-Curo." He had chewed tobacco for over forty years and the last year used over sixty-five pounds He commenced using "Baco-Curo" and one box did not have the effect, when he had used about one-half of the second box, he began to lose his taste for tobacco, and when he had used one-half of the third box he had lost all is appetite for it, and is now entirely cured.

Yours truly, J. C. TAYLOR, Druggist.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

This is to certify that I, William S. Sawyer of Atlantic, County of Cass, State of Iowa, having been an inveterate smoker of tobacco, bought three boxes of "Baco-Curo" Dec. 21, 1894. Began taking same according to directions and can say that I am completely cured of the tobacco habit "Baco-Curo" is simply wonderful and I recommend it to all who are slaves to the tobacco habit and wish to be cured. I am in perfect health and have not felt so well in years. That terrible craving, which every tobacco user has more or less, has completely disappeared and I feel like a new man. Hoping that this may do some one good and lead them to try this wonderful remedy, "Baco-Curo," I remain, Yours truly,

WM. S. SAWYER, Atlantic, Iowa.

Eureka Chemical & Mfg Co., La Crosse, Wis.

Gentlemen—For forty years I used tobacco in all its forms. For twenty-five years of that time I was a great sufferer from general debility and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but couldn't. I took various remedies, among others "No-To-Bac," "The Indian Tobacco Antidote," "Double Chloride of Gold," etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good Finally, however, I purchased a box of your "Baco-Curo" and it has entirely cured me of the habit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and pains of body and mind. I could write a quire of paper upon my changed feelings and condition.

Yours respectfully, P. B. MARBURY,

WHAT MR. KRAEMER SAYS OF "BACO-CURO."

ATLANTIC, Iowa, Feb 4, 1895.

This is to certify that I, F. D. Kraemer, of Atlantic, Iowa, was an inveterate smoker of cigarettes for more than two years.

About eight weeks ago I bought three boxes of "Baco-Curo" I began taking it according to directions, and after taking one and one-half boxes, all the desire for cigarettes left me, and I have had no desire since.

I can heartily recommend "Baco-Curo" to all who are slaves to the cigarette habit or tobacco habit in any form, and are in search of a cure I had become so under the influence of cigarettes, I could not remember anything; could not study, unless under the influence of the drug, which is death in the end, if kept up.

Cigarettes are sapping the lives out of more boys and young men to-day, than anything that is known to the world Boys before it is too late get some of this remedy that killed the craving for cigarettes in me and save your young life. Restore yourself to manhood You will feel as though you had escaped an awful doom, and you have, when cured by "Baco-Curo," for you feel like a new being I never felt better in all my life than at this present writing. I did not know what was the matter with me, until informed by the agent. He told me what was the reason I could not do anything unless under the influence of the death-dealing poison found in cigarettes I did not believe him at first, until he explained the action on the system. Then bought the goods and thank God and all concerned. I am a sound person to-day. Hoping that this may reach the unfortunate cigarette smoker, I remain, Yours respectfully,

F. D. KRAEMER.

A little dried up man whose nationality was imprinted plainly on his face walked into the First National bank the other day, gazed furtively about, hesitation in his every movement. Then he as quickly and unostentatiously left the great room, his hand shoved deep into his trousers pocket.

In a few minutes he reappeared, determination written in every deep line of his rugged face, though his manner did not lack hesitation. He stared about him until he espied a line of patrons making deposits at the receiving teller's window, and at the foot of the line he took his place. As one after another of the customers made his deposit and departed the little old fellow drew nearer and nearer to the window, and at each advance his uneasiness increased and his courage departed.

When almost to the goal, he turned abruptly, wagged his head in a deprecatory sort of way, and again took a place at the tail end of the line he had climbed so patiently. A second time he approached the window by slow degrees and a second time he turned away when his hopes were about to be realized. The third time he toiled up that ever varying line and it was apparent that this time he would do or die.

Only two men stood between him and the teller, and he shifted restlessly from one foot to another. Only one man now kept him from the counter and his agitation increased. That one man turned away.

The little old man's time had come at last! He jerked his hand from his pocket and with it a huge roll of greasy and oft fingered bills. He dashed the money down in front of the puzzled teller and in a voice husky with emotion, excitement and suppressed nervousness exclaimed loud enough to be heard 100 feet away:

"Oi want t' jine the bank!"

He wanted to open an account and no one interposed an objection.—Chicago Tribune.

Her Mania For Funerals.

As women advance in years, it has been noticed, a fondness for attending funerals becomes manifest in their characteristics, but a young woman who has this tendency is extremely rare. Such a one, however, told this story on herself in a little social coterie the other day:

"I don't know why it is," she stated, "but I have always had a mania for funerals. When I was a child, I never could get past a door that had crape on it. I would always mingle with the visitors and go in and see the dead person, whether I knew the family or not. The melancholy which pervades such scenes has always had a relish for me. I can't tell why. Not long ago, however, I had such a peculiar experience that my fondness for burials has temporarily languished—perhaps I'm cured.

"An acquaintance died, and I, of course, arranged my plans to attend the funeral. At the time I dressed and repaired to her church. As I was delayed a little, I sat down in a rear seat. There I heard the hymns and the discourse, and joined copiously in the mourning. I remember now how I wept and wept until people near me regarded me curiously. I was too used up to go to the grave and went home. At dinner my husband said:

"'What makes your eyes so red?'

"'I have been to Mrs. Wilbur's funeral,' I answered.

"He looked a trifle queer, and then said:

"'No, you haven't; she isn't to be buried until tomorrow.'"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

An Indication.

Mr. Northside walked into his parlor the other night and was rather surprised to see his daughter sitting on young Mr. Hilltop's lap.

The young people were surprised too.

The older man was the first to recover his equanimity, and as Miss Northside found her feet he remarked:

"Ah, Lucy! I see your race for a husband is nearly over."

"What makes you say that, papa?" asked the girl, blushing painfully.

"You seemed to be on the last lap."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Parental Reproof.

"It seems to me, Laura," called out Mr. Kajones, who was trying to read his newspaper, "you are doing a good deal of unnecessary talking and cackling in there. What are you about?"

"I'm merely sitting by George," demurely answered Miss Laura from the parlor.

"Well, I wish you would make less noise, by George!" rejoined Mr. Kajones.—Chicago Tribune.

THE MIDDLETOWN CELERY CO.

Michigan Celery Growers Preparing to Engage in Celery Culture Near This City—The Company's Black Dirt Farm—Thirty-Five Acres to be Planted This Year—Methods of Culture—Plans for the Future.

The Middletown Celery Company is the name of a concern that was incorporated under the laws of the State of Michigan in November last. The incorporators were Messrs. P. W. A. Fitzsimmons and A. L Brewer, of the Tecumseh Celery Co., of near Adrian, Mich., and Mr. George F. Fish, who has resided in this city for several years.

The company was organized for the purpose of raising celery on a large scale on the black dirt meadows near Eight-and-a-Half station, owned by Mr. Fish, and heretofore known as the Orange County Celery Gardens.

There are fifty-five acres of black dirt in the tract, twenty-nine of which are a part of the George Beebe farm, recently owned by Mr. C. Macardell, and twenty six acres purchased by Mr. Fish from George W. Corwin.

ADVANTAGE OF LOCATION.

The company is capitalized at $10,000. Messrs. Brewer and Fitzsimmons have been engaged in celery culture on a large scale in Michigan for a number of years. They are familiar with the business in all its details. They have realized immense profits from the business in Michigan and expect even more satisfactory results from their venture here, where they have soil just as well adapted for celery growing as that in Michigan, and have the advantage of nearness to market and greatly reduced cost of transportion of fertilizers and the products of their gardens. One particular advantage will be that celery can be put on the market in an absolutely fresh condition.

PREPARING THE LAND.

Mr. John Bopp, who has been employed by the Tecumseh Celery Co., in Michigan, for the past ten years, is the resident manager of the Middletown Co. He is now hard at work with a force of eight men and five horses getting the ground ready for this year's crops. Only about thirty-five acres can be planted to celery this year, but this is expected to yield from fifty to sixty car loads and will furnish employment during the summer to about twenty-five hands. The remainder of the tract will be planted to corn and potatoes in order to get it in condition for celery by next year.

EARLY AND LATE CROPS.

For the early crop Mr. Bopp has about 100,000 plants of the pink plume variety ready for setting out, and about an acre and a half is sown in seed for the late celery, the varieties being white plume and green top.

The company has put a large quantity of manure upon the ground besides two carloads each of bone dust and ashes, and as much more of the bone dust and ashes will be used this year. The rule of the company is to put on forty loads of stable manure to the acre in addition to the ashes and bone dust.

AN IRRIGATING PLANT.

A large building will be erected, this summer, for washing, packing and storing celery. An engine room will be attached. The engine will be used for pumping water for irrigating the ground in the dry season. The water will be obtained from an artesian well to be sunk near the engine house. The ditches will be dammed at the ends and connected in one general system, so that they may be kept full of water when desired, and from these the water is absorbed by the soil, so that even in a drouth the celery plants will be supplied with sufficient moisture.

STARTING THE BUSINESS.

The company will spend from $5,000 to $6,000, this year, in getting its business started, but there is no doubt that the investment will be a profitable one. It is part of the plan to build a switch from the packing house to the Erie tracks, so that but one handling of fertilizers or celery will be required.

None of the members of the company will reside here. Mr. Brewer will remain in charge of the Michigan celery farms; Mr. Fitzsimmons will spend his time in a general oversight of the business of both the Tecumseh and Middletown Companies, and Mr. Fish will reside in New York and have charge of the sales department..

POSSIBILITIES OF THE FUTURE.

If the Middletown Celery Co. is successful, as there is every reason to believe it will be, there is little doubt that celery culture will become quite general in this locality and the many black dirt meadows that have been given up to the raising of onions, will become celery farms, and bring better returns to their owners and furnish work for many people.

When so many people are taking and deriving benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, why don't you try it yourself? It is highly recommended

The services will begin at 8 o'clock. Mr. Crosley will relate his experience in the army and speak of what men will do and sacrifice for principle and country.

A SUFFERING CHILD

Head and Scalp Raw with Places Size of Silver Dollar. Various Remedies only caused Fresh Eruptions. Applied CUTICURA. Change in Twenty-four Hours. Perfect Cure in Two Weeks.

My little son, aged three, was very much troubled with a breaking out on his scalp and behind his ear. The places affected were about as large as a silver dollar; the flesh seemed raw and covered with little blisters. The child suffered considerably, and was naturally very fretful. I tried several remedies without obtaining any beneficial results; in fact the eruptions seemed to be spreading and new places breaking out. I concluded to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. I washed the affected parts with the CUTICURA SOAP, taking care not to irritate the flesh, and applied CUTICURA. I noticed a change for the better in the appearance of the eruptions in twenty-four hours, and in two weeks the eruptions entirely disappeared, leaving the skin smooth and the scalp clean; in fact a perfect cure, as I have not seen any indications of any eruption or breaking out since. I gave the child only a few doses of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT. I consider your CUTICURA REMEDIES very valuable. I believe CUTICURA would be excellent for applying to insect bites, which are very annoying in this country.

IN AID OF MISSIONS.

Meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Archdeaconry of Orange.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Archdeaconry of Orange, organized to co-operate with the Mission Boards of the church, met in Grace Church, this morning. There was a Celebration of Holy Communion by Bishop Coleman, of Delaware, and an address on Missions by Rev. W. W. Smith, assistant at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York, who is preparing to become a missionary to China.

The delegates, about forty in number, were entertained at dinner at the Oriental Hotel, after which a meeting was held in the church, at which reports were read, the work of the Auxiliary discussed and other business transacted.
